NALC launches app for smartphones

The NALC has introduced a new app for smartphones. The union reports that you can now access NALC’s Member App for smartphones via push notification. The NALC does not offer technical support for installing the app on these or other devices. At this time, NALC does not support installing the app on a computer. However, if you have a smartphone, you can use the app to keep up with your local chapter, NALC’s advocacy efforts, and the latest news and legislative information. The app is available on Apple devices via the Apple App Store or Google Play for Android devices. For more information, visit nalc.org/app.

For those interested in the union’s legislative and political agenda, the government affairs section has tools for friendly legislation or if they’re on a committee important to the fight for postal reform. From the bill tracker, you can read NALC’s stance on bills in Congress or how many co-sponsors the bills have. We’ve also put buttons for fact sheets and legislative information, so you can know everything there is to know about these bills before speaking to your members of Congress. And of course, we’ve made it easy for you to let us know you’d like to sign up for the bill tracker. The NALC Member App for smartphones will allow you to stay informed about all the latest legislation and activity in Congress. From the news tab you can see all the latest news items from nalc.org. From the menu, you can choose a category, and then choose a subcategory. From there, you can see all the articles related to that topic. You can also search for specific keywords within an article. The NALC Member App for smartphones is available on the Apple App Store or Google Play for Android devices. For more information, visit nalc.org/app.
