

Teaming up to make a difference

Letter carriers and Auxiliary members are tireless and creative fundraisers for many charitable causes, so when it comes time to give a financial boost to COLCPE, it's no wonder they respond.

Bowlathons, poker tournaments, raffles, golf outings, car washes—with events like these, or just by passing around a hat at meetings, NALC and Auxiliary branches found many ways to make group efforts to help COLCPE last year. With their help, COLCPE supported the political interests of letter carriers in a very tough election year.

Behind each of these group contributions was a carrier or Auxiliary member who organized an event or stood up to explain how supporting COLCPE assures our voices are heard on Capitol Hill. They deserve special thanks.

This list shows the group totals for donations that came through events where individual donors were not named. It also includes donations from Auxiliary chapters. Auxiliaries continue their strong support for COLCPE that dates back to the days when letter carriers were banned by law from political involvement of any kind and had to rely on Auxiliary members to work on their behalf.

Note: Group contributions to COLCPE are limited by federal law. Special record-keeping regulations apply. No personal or branch checks are permitted. Money from group collections must be sent to COLCPE at National Headquarters by money order or cashier's check within 30 days of receipt, along with the date of collection and a description of the event. A form to help you submit these contributions can be downloaded at nalc.org/depart/legpol/pdf/COLCPE_contributors_form.pdf.
