

2018 Photo Contest winners

Carriers encountering dogs and kids, working in the cold or delivering packages were the subjects of the winning entries in the 2018 NALC Photo Contest. The eight winning photos selected by a panel of judges to represent a day in the life of a letter carrier can be seen on this page.

The contest was announced in late 2017 and called for carriers to enter photos of NALC members in the office or out on their routes, interacting with co-workers or delivering to patrons, in rain, snow or sleet as well as on those sunny days. Entries had to be submitted by NALC members of photos taken after the contest was announced in September. Entries poured in and the winners were put on display at the 2018 NALC Convention in Detroit for thousands of delegates and visitors to see.

“Letter carriers are among the hardest-working men and women in the United States, and this contest is one more way that we can honor their work,” NALC President Fredric Rinaldo said in announcing the contest. “We hope that everyone who sees the photos will know just what an integral thread letter carriers are to the fabric of the nation.” PR

1

4

2

3

7

5

6

8

Winners:

- 1) Johnny Paredes—New York, NY Br. 36
- 2) Denise Knox—Newport News, VA Br. 609
- 3) Geri Kluczinske—Manitowoc, WI Br. 490
- 4) Valerie Jackson—Washington, DC Br. 142
- 5) Tony Coleiro—Santa Rosa, CA Br. 183
- 6) Jessica Jensen—Sacramento, CA Br. 133
- 7) Alan Dockery—Knoxville, TN Br. 219
- 8) Thomas Dodge—Gillette, WY Br. 1548