Make sure your family is covered

Life insurance made simple with NALC’s Mutual Benefit Association
As a letter carrier, your family depends on you. But what happens if something happens to you and you're no longer there for them to depend on? It's difficult for many people to think about, but you owe it to them and to yourself to consider life insurance—and NALC’s Mutual Benefit Association (MBA) can make it easy.

Life insurance ensures that your spouse, children or other loved ones will receive financial support no matter when you die. Life insurance also can cover costs such as debt, taxes and funeral expenses so your spouse and children aren’t left to deal with such matters when they’re most grief-stricken.

Even if you still are young and don’t have a spouse or children, buying a life insurance policy might make sense because it may be less expensive and also offer more benefits if you start early. Some policies also build a cash value you can use later in life.

“It’s always smart to start planning your financial life early, and to make adjustments as your life changes,” NALC President Brian L. Renfroe said. “NALC members have several good options for life insurance and should consider them no matter where they are in life.”

Chris Alessi, the MBA representative for Tri-Valley, CA Branch 2902, often talks to the other letter carriers in his branch about why they should get life insurance.

“The first thing is to protect their families,” Alessi said. “We know that life insurance seems complicated, so MBA is working to make it simple.

Your Mutual Benefit Association

Founded in 1891, MBA is an insurer for NALC members and their families, administered from its office, which is located in NALC Headquarters in Washington, DC. Thanks to the multiple programs designed to meet the varied needs of letter carriers, MBA currently insures about 8,000 people for a total of $181 million in life insurance coverage. MBA is overseen by Director of Life Insurance Jim Yates, a letter carrier from Long Island Merged, NY Branch 6000.

While most insurance companies put their profits ahead of your needs, the MBA is a not-for-profit insurer, run by letter carriers for letter carriers and their families.

“Unlike other insurance companies, everything we do is with the thought of how it will benefit our members and their families,” Yates said.

MBA offers two types of life insurance—term and whole life. The simplest is term life insurance. Like home or auto insurance, term life protects the insured for a certain time period, or term, such as 10 years. While this kind of insurance covers only a set period, many term life products are able to be renewed. The cost of term life insurance varies a great deal depending on your age—the older you are, the more expensive insuring your life will be.

A whole life insurance policy has no term—it is guaranteed to pay a benefit when the insured dies, no matter when that is. Whole life policies spread the costs over the payment period, so the premium amount will remain the same throughout the lifetime of the policy. That means that the earlier you buy, the lower the pre-

MBA’s whole life policies come with a cash value, functioning like a savings plan. As you make premium payments on a whole life policy, a portion of the premium goes toward providing the death benefit (which is paid to the beneficiary at the time of the insured’s death), while the other portion builds a cash value. MBA invests the cash value portion of the premiums. This cash value remains available to the owner of the policy.

As with term life insurance, if you die with a whole life policy in place, the death benefit is paid. However, if you cancel a whole life policy, you receive at that time the cash value that has accrued. For instance, you might choose to cancel a whole life policy and receive the cash value after you retire because your family has less need for life insurance coverage, and you need the money for living expenses instead. You also can sometimes take out a loan against the cash value of your policy.

MBA pays dividends—a share of the profits—to its whole life insurance policyholders when the premiums its customers paid exceeded the amount needed by MBA for the year to cover all of the death benefits. If the policy is whole life, the policyholder often can choose to buy more insurance using the dividend.

Branch 2902 MBA Representative Alessi said that letter carriers often don’t know about life insurance’s ability to help them save money. “You want to have a nice little nest egg,” he tells his branch members. He also encourages them to consider whole life insurance as a way to keep rates low. “I always let them know, every time I talk to them, that the MBA’s plan stays locked in with the whole life. Lock it in at a younger age and keep it going.”

Whatever your career status, letter carriers have many insurance options from MBA to choose from, and your needs may change over time. As you get older, buy a home, get married, have children, and perhaps divorce or form blended families with stepchildren, you might want to update your insurance plans or anticipate future changes. Your health also can change as you age, and some insurance policies take this into account.

“MBA offers both term and whole life policies that could make sense for almost any letter carrier at any age or stage in life, from CCAs to retirees,” Yates said.

Many options for you

Here’s a look at the many whole and term life insurance products MBA offers to fit every letter carrier’s needs:

MBA Whole Life Paid-Up at Age 65 is a limited-payment whole life insurance policy. It is ideal for all letter carriers and their family members. MBA Life Paid-Up at Age 65 offers lifelong insurance protection without lifelong payments. This plan allows the insured to reduce his or her financial obligations upon retirement while maintaining insurance coverage. You can purchase life insurance coverage worth between $10,000 and $100,000. Premium payments are required up to the policy’s anniversary date after the insured’s 65th birthday. At that time, the policy is fully paid up, yet coverage stays in force throughout the insured’s lifetime, unless you decide to surrender the policy for its cash value.

MBA 20 Pay Whole Life is a limited-payment life insurance policy that lets you build up cash for your future. Whether you choose $10,000 or $100,000 worth of coverage or anything in between, you pay premiums for 20 years. In the event of the insured’s death, MBA 20 Pay Whole Life will pay the beneficiaries the full amount of the policy. After the 20 years, you can keep the coverage at no cost, or surrender your policy for its cash value. If you choose to keep the policy in force, your cash value will continue to grow and you will continue to earn dividends. The MBA 20 Pay Whole Life is ideal for members who want to cover their children or grandchildren. The younger the insured is at the time of purchase, the lower the monthly premiums will be. Ownership of the policy can be transferred to the child when they become of age.

As with the Paid-Up at Age 65 and 20 Pay Whole Life plans, the MBA Whole Life policy is a whole life plan that lets you choose from $10,000 to $100,000 worth of coverage. Premiums are based on the amount of the policy benefit and your age at the time of purchase. With this plan, premiums remain the same throughout the life of your policy.

The Independence—Single Premium Plan, one of the most convenient whole life plans available, provides you or any eligible member of your family with life insurance coverage of $5,000, $10,000, $20,000, $100,000 or any amount you choose within that range (subject to limitations) for a single, one-in-a-lifetime premium payment. With this plan, you not only get immediate real-cash value, but also investment advantages such as favorable tax-free interest earnings, easy low-interest loan availability, an instant cash-value option, a no-cancellation guarantee and, of course, full death benefits. The Independence—Single Premium Plan also lets you decide whether to leave your dividends on deposit to increase their cash value, or to use them to increase your death benefit or receive a dividend check.

Then there are the term life options. MBA 10-Year Renewable and Convertible Term Life is a 10-year renewable and convertible term policy. In the event of your death, the policy will pay...

This plan lets you choose coverage from $10,000 to $100,000. It also is convertible to a whole life policy, such as MBA Whole Life, with a medical exam, if the insured is under the age of 65, with certain restrictions. Other products

Beyond whole and term life insurance, MBA offers other products that... letter carriers and their families should consider.

All NALC members are automatically enrolled in free accidental death coverage that covers letter carriers for $5,000 if they die as the result of an accident.

Individual Disability Income can cover active NALC members when the unexpected happens. It helps ensure that you have the money you need—and are better able to continue living the lifestyle you’ve worked for—if you become hurt or too sick to work. Disability income benefits start 14 days after your disability begins and payments continue during your disability for a period of up to six or 12 months, depending on which benefit period you select for your plan. It’s guaranteed renewable to age 65 by payment of the premium on each renewal date. As long as the premium is paid on time, MBA cannot change any benefits or refuse to renew the policy. Premiums are based on the table of rates in effect for all people insured under the policy who have the same issue age and policy date and are in the same class as you at renewal.

If you are hospitalized for illness or injury, MBA’s Hospital Plus can help your financial health with cash payments of $30, $50, $75 or $100 a day, depending on your specific policy. Cash benefits start on the first day you are hospitalized and continue for up to 365 days. Hospital Plus also lets you cover your spouse at the same coverage amount as the member, children are covered at 60 percent of the members coverage.

Benefits are paid in full regardless of other health insurance benefits you receive. Cash benefits are paid directly to you and may be used for any purpose. This is extra cash protection to help you meet the financial burdens associated with accidents and illnesses.

All applying members, regardless of age, and their eligible dependents may be covered. As long as you pay your premium, you can keep your policy, regardless of prior benefits received or future health conditions. Rates will not be individually raised.
